According to directives issued by the SED Politburo, the workers of all factories will have to pass resolutions demanding active measures for the defense of factories against Western aggression. In these resolutions, workers will be invited to promise the government that they are ready to defend the socialist achievements of their government by taking up arms if need be. Although such resolutions have been passed by a great number of factories, very few workers have volunteered for military training. For this reason, questionnaires have been distributed among workers in which each worker had to state why he does not take part in a
